

DEARTH OF READING

BOARDERS AT COUNTY FARM SHORT OF MAGAZINES SINCE THE WAR

Co-operative housekeeping is sometimes practiced in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cross and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark, to the satisfaction of all concerned for they have many interests in common. Sunday was one of the times when the Clarks were entertained at the Cross home and following the midday dinner the two families drove to the County Farm to convey a load of magazines for the enjoyment of the inmates. Mesdames Clark and Cross are on the philanthropic committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and recently learned that good reading matter is one of the things the county farm people really need. Since the war began and all districts have been combed for salvage, they have not received the amount of reading that used to reach them and they miss it. The visit of these two ladies was therefore very welcome. The county takes care of their physical needs except that additional clothing in the shape of outer garments for men is desired as the county supply is confined to jumpers. Mrs. Clark says that any one wishing to send papers or magazines to the poor of the county institution can secure her co-operation at any time by telephoning her.

After returning from the farm the two families were entertained at supper and for the evening at the Clark home. Mrs. Cross' mother, Mrs. Cole and her two daughters, the Misses Cole, also being guests.

SYCAMORE CANYON ROAD IMPROVEMENT

A resolution of intention in connection with the improvement of Sycamore Canyon Road is being prepared in the expectation that it can be presented to the City Trustees in the course of three or four weeks, and that legal formalities may be completed in time for contracts to be let early in the spring. The prospect of a million-dollar moving picture plant in that part of the city will, it is believed, accelerate this improvement.

UNPROFESSIONAL BURGLARS

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Coon of 325 North Orange Street last week had the excitement of a burglary but fortunately sustained no serious loss. They had been out for the evening and on coming home about 10 o'clock found their house had been entered through a screen porch from which a bathroom window had been pried open and the bedrooms ransacked. The thieves were evidently in search of money, as that was the only article of value they took as far as the Coons have yet discovered, and that was a very small amount. They imagine it was the work of non-professionals because of the manner in which it was done, and also that they may have surprised the "prentices" before they had been able to search the dining and living rooms.

TEXAS OIL FIELDS

R. A. WALTON TELLS OF SENSATIONAL MOVEMENT OF REAL ESTATE IN PETROLEUM BELT

R. A. Walton, brother-in-law of J. W. M. Burton of the firm of Burton & Chandler, this city, who is a guest in his home, is fresh from the oil fields of Texas, where big things are doing. He will be associated with Burton & Chandler, acting as their representative in Texas and making frequent trips between that state and the coast. When asked for some statement of conditions there he gave the following account of his most recent investigations:

I have just returned from Texas, having spent three weeks in the oil fields. While there I visited the much talked of Ranger Field for the purpose of looking over the holdings of Mr. E. R. Hibbard, of Los Angeles, arriving there just in time to witness the bringing in of a well on one of his properties, six miles north of Ranger in the southeastern part of Stevens county. They got the first show of oil and gas a few minutes after I arrived at the well.

Most of my time, however, was spent in securing oil and gas leases near Decatur, in Wise County, about forty miles north of Fort Worth. There are quite a number of wells being drilled in Wise County at this time and a great number of new locations have recently been made by well-known oil operators.

Oil men are showing a great deal of interest in this section and leases are very active. More than twenty-

THE ANCIENTS

PROF. HERTZOG GIVES LECTURE UNDER AUSPICES OF LIBERAL CLUB

Prof. Walter S. Hertzog, historical instructor in Hollywood High school gave a very interesting address Sunday evening at Masonic hall under the auspices of the Liberal Club, on the present day conception of ancient history. The earliest traces of man, he declared, date from the close of the last glacial period, fifty thousand years ago. Beginning with Europe, he traced the existence, migrations and amalgamations of four great races: The Mediterranean, (small, black hair, long heads); the Danubian (forerunners of our Anglo-Saxon, six feet tall with broad heads and red hair); their mixture, the Alpines; the Scandinavian or Baltic race (five feet ten, with light hair). The Danubian race have left implements of bronze buried in their tombs while other races had only implements of stone, hence the speaker argued they were the dominant race. Indications seem to show, he said, that they originated in England, the only place where copper and tin are to be found in proximity; that they extended their migrations over parts of Europe down into Egypt in search of more copper and tin seems more than probable.

Mr. Hertzog held the audience under the spell of the remote past for an hour and will very probably give a continuation of his subject in the near future.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

Mrs. John Robert White of North Orange Street was hostess at a children's party Saturday afternoon which she says she thoroughly enjoyed, and it is safe to say her little guests shared her pleasure. It was given as a reward to the children who sold ten or more tickets each for the Tuesday Afternoon Club benefit and invitations were sent to eighteen little folks. All kinds of games were played and an abundant supply of party refreshments, which included home-made cake and ice cream, were served.

THE WHITE GOOSE

According to Mr. Redman, who has been appointed their publicity agent, Harry McBain and "Duke" Clausenius had an interesting but not exciting hunting trip yesterday to Elizabeth Lake, the net returns being one white goose bagged by Mr. McBain. As evidence that he is willing to share the credit, however, Mr. Redman reports that the two hunters are having their photographs taken together with the goose in the foreground.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS

LADIES OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH ENTERTAINED BY SUNDAY SCHOOL SCHOLARS

Ladies of the First Methodist Church and all the husbands of the married ones were charmingly entertained Monday evening by members of the Junior Department of the Sunday School, assisted by Superintendent L. C. Leeds, Mrs. Emma Reed, Assistant Superintendent of the department and other officers. The pleasant function took place in the social hall of the church and that there might be an opportunity to better promote acquaintance between juniors and seniors it was made a round table affair, with junior hosts and hostesses at the various tables. These constituted a reception committee which met guests and conducted them to their places. On arrival they were handed a slip of paper which read:

"My name is ———. What is yours?" The blank, of course, being filled in with the name of the youthful usher. This constituted an excellent introduction.

The very enjoyable informal program included a variety of games and stunts. One was the auctioning off of gifts with imaginary money and the opening of the packages for the entertainment of the company. Some of the packages contained nothing but waste paper. Others improved upon that to the extent of enclosing original poems written by church members which created much amusement. In others there were toys. There were group stunts which required a division to sing a certain song or recite a certain poem, and there was a travel game which provided highly amusing. Refreshments were limited to fruit punch and wafers. About one hundred were present and all who participated pronounced it one of the pleasantest social affairs that has taken place at the church this year.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 13.—Hearings before the Senate's Mexican Investigating Committee will open here immediately following the arrival of Senator Fall from El Paso tonight. Senator Smith of Arizona has been here for several days.

Between fifty and seventy-five witnesses have been summoned to appear here and it is expected the number will be increased shortly to one hundred and fifty.

After concluding the hearings in San Antonio the committee will hold sessions at El Paso, Nogales and Los Angeles.

U. S. NOT TO SHARE SPOILS

WILL WAIVE ITS CLAIM TO THE TWO PER CENT OF GERMAN SHIPPING WHICH ALLIES AWARDED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, Jan. 13.—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference today notified American Ambassador Wallace that its decision to award the United States only two per cent of the German shipping which the allies will distribute, remains unchanged.

Wallace immediately notified the council that the United States prefers to waive its claim entirely.

The Supreme Council this morning completed the Hungarian peace treaty. With this work done it virtually passed out of existence.

MYSTERIOUS MALADY IN OKLAHOMA

MANY PERSONS ATTACKED AND DISEASE SPREADING; DIAGNOSIS OF HEALTH BOARD NOT ACCEPTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 13.—The mysterious malady which attacked five hundred persons at Skialook, has spread to Muskogee and Shawnee, according to messages to this city. Physicians in Skialook disagree with the State Health Department's diagnosis that the disease is typhoid fever. Some believe that it is an aftermath of the influenza epidemic.

TO LOOK INTO ARMY MEDAL AWARDS

SENATOR GALLIVAN OF MASSACHUSETTS DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION BY HOUSE MILITARY COMMITTEE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts, addressing the House today, charged that many army medals for distinguished service have been awarded unfairly. He urged complete investigation by the House military committee.

Gallivan declared that many officers who never heard a shot fired received medals and that scores of real heroes went unrewarded. He said that as a result the distinguished service medal has become known as "the desk service medal." He bitterly denounced Chief of Staff General March, saying: "He has not enough space between his belt and his collar to display the medals he received, yet he did not hear a hostile shot throughout the war."

He severely criticized General Pershing saying that he gave a medal "to every commissioned messenger boy." He declared his belief that every member of the general staff in Washington had been awarded one of these medals regardless of the character of the service rendered.

ANTI-BOLSHEVİK FORCES EVACUATE ODESSA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, Jan. 13.—Press dispatches received today said that General Denikens' anti-Bolshevik forces have evacuated Odessa.

MISSION STUDY

FOUR CLASSES MEET AT TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY EVE.

Mission study classes for which a six weeks' course was recently arranged at the Tropico Presbyterian Church, had their first meeting at the church Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The scholars were divided into four classes, one for men taught by H. E. Fry, one for women under Miss Rose Scott, who is connected with the Presbyterian Board of Extension, a children's class conducted by Mrs. O. P. Rider, and class composed of Christian Endeavor members under the direction of a missionary committee, with a different leader each Sunday.

All of the classes met together for fifteen minutes of song and devotional exercises; Miss Leda St. Clair giving a vocal number. Then the classes separated for their separate lessons.

Following the missionary studies, Judge Thomas, of the Court of Appeals from Santa Ana, chairman of social service committee in the New Era movement, made an address. He said he was "not a preacher nor the son of a preacher," but that he "believes in putting first things first," and that "it is mighty important for us to preach the right kind of sermons by our lives. He showed in a very convincing way the practical, every day application of social service. The study classes and the service following were very well attended and much enjoyed.

FUNERAL OF W. W. RAMSAY

Funeral services in memory of W. W. Ramsay, which were held at his late home at 137 South Adams Street Monday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds, who spoke briefly but appropriately and beautifully of the dead, the things he had stood for and his place in the hearts of those who best knew him and his work.

The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful, especially that of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, of which Mrs. Ramsay was president for two years.

Mrs. Frank Arnold sang with tenderness and feeling, "Lead Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me." Mrs. Ramsay was fortunate in being sustained by a sister who came from New Mexico to be with her in the sorrowful ordeal of laying her dead away. A brother and a sister of deceased who reside in the East were prevented from coming by illness and the only son who lives in Chicago was unable to secure reservations, so great is the congestion of travel.

Interment was at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

ELKS' INITIATION

ELEVEN NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO ROSTER AND NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

The meeting of the local Elks' Lodge Monday evening drew a large attendance, there being many visitors from other cities in addition to Glendale membership.

Candidates initiated were: Walter F. B. Gurnee, Herbert S. Brown, W. H. Lewis, of Burbank, by transfer; Ralph O. Church, also of Burbank; L. G. Silberberg, James Wilson, John Gutendorf of Burbank, Fred Johnson of Santa Susana, J. B. Marleau, Lester B. Taylor of Burbank, and Dr. Paul Wisner.

Besides the ceremonies in connection with initiation, the installation of three officers took place, viz. John H. Fanset as Esteemed Leading Knight, to take the place of Dr. Raymond Chase, resigned; Alfred H. Priest as Esteemed Loyal Knight and Arthur H. Dibbern as Lecturing Knight. The installation work was done by Brother Harry Cheeseman of the Pasadena Elks Lodge by the orders of District Deputy Grand Chancellor Joe Burke of Santa Ana. The Esquire of the Pasadena Lodge assisted in the installation ceremonies.

Five applications for membership were received and the lodge balloted on about ten applications.

Following the session a supper was served in the Jinks room and a moving picture put on by way of entertainment.

Mrs. Frank Ayars and her mother, Mrs. L. W. Needham, are this week entertaining as a house guest Mrs. Helen Evans of St. Paul, who is wintering in Long Beach. She and Mrs. Needham are lifelong friends.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Wednesday. Light to heavy frost Wednesday morning.

FLOOD CONTROL

LOCAL WORK NEARING COMPLETION HAS BEEN DONE WAY UNDER ESTIMATED COST

The City of Glendale has been notified by the Pacific Electric Railway Company that it will begin today the removal of its tracks from the south to the north side of the Verdugo wash and to their permanent location. This means the removal of the trestles which will leave the channel free to its full width. The flood control forces under Mr. Daley will at once put in the wooden piling between Central and Brand and also push forward the driving of wooden piles between Pacific Avenue and San Fernando Road. It should therefore be a comparatively short time before the entire job is completed.

A very satisfactory feature of the work, which is a pleasant discovery for the tax payers as well as the engineer in charge, is that it has cost less than anticipated. Mr. Daley has just been checking up with the auditor and finds that work has been accomplished at figures way below the estimates, and this will leave more money to be used elsewhere in the county. One advantage mentioned by the engineer is the fact that the weather has "been with us all the time," as he expressed it, which has made possible the pushing of the enterprise at maximum speed without drawbacks. There is still some brush to be filled in and Mr. Daley has made application to the supervisors for permission to take it from the Los Angeles River bottom. This brush is exactly the sort needed and could be easily and cheaply obtained. He expects the railroad will be entirely out of the channel by the end of the week and that all the loose ends of the job can then be finished up in short order and leave the force free to take up Sycamore Canyon work, which will begin with the building of a sand trap at the mouth of the canyon.

DEATH OF JOHN P. ALEXANDER

On Monday, January 12, 1920, at 5 p. m. death came to John Pierre Alexander at his home at 824 East Acacia Street, following a brief illness. He was a native of Tennessee. He had resided in Glendale about eight years, and was approaching his seventieth birthday. After retiring from active work as a rancher about a year ago, he went onto the police force of the city as patrolman, performing his duties in that capacity until he was taken sick about the first of January. He leaves a widow and four sons, viz., R. W. Alexander of Glendale, J. B. and W. B. Alexander of Los Angeles, and R. E. Alexander of Texas.

Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. They will be in charge of Pulliam & Kiefer and Rev. Clifford Cole will officiate.

Deceased came to Glendale from Dallas, Texas, where he had served on the police force for many years and where he was considered one of its best men in the days when Texas needed good officers. Since his residence in Glendale he has made many friends, by whom he was greatly respected.

A party at which guests were entertained with music, dancing and cards and for which an unusually beautiful setting was provided took place Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flower on Elk Avenue. INCREASE OF PRODUCTION

The war demonstrated that in the United States it is possible to take more than thirty billion dollars from the social surplus without injuring our industrial fabric half so much as it would be injured by a great panic. Few realize how much production can be increased, when intelligence and cooperation are applied to industry.

The systematization and standardization of industry have doubled the productivity of the nations. This has been done with the strongest and ablest young men withdrawn from industry and engaged in destruction. The available social surplus has been increased, even while wages have risen faster than ever before.

The possibility of increased production, when the same science and skill are directed to industry that have been applied to war, staggers the imagination. With millions of strong young men back at work, with many of these skilled in mechanical lines and disciplined in team work, production can be increased many fold.

The ability to standardize acquired in war, the organization of power production on a national scale, the co-ordination of air, land and water transportation, and the better use of agricultural resources make a wonderful increase in production possible.

A nation that has lived under a work-or-fight law will hardly now look with favor upon social idlers or disloyal agitators. A people that knows the power of unity in war will not long tolerate industrial strife, the one thing that now balks increased production and the possibility of an abundant social surplus.—Monrovia News.

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

With the stand-pat Democrats at least mustering the temerity to declare for Wilson and the League, and Mr. Bryan flitting darkly about Washington with both ears to the ground, 'tis a pleasant pastime to conjecture whether the San Francisco convention will bet on a "was-er" or a triple extract "might-have-been."—Long Beach Telegram.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

The coffee was weak, the bread underdone, and the fowl tough, or at least he said so. His wife's long patience gave way.

"John Henry," said she, "I've tried faithfully to cook to suit you for twelve long years. No one in the town has better cooked food, yet you are always finding fault. Why can't you praise me once in a while, I'd like to know?"

He looked up in astonishment. "Well, if you ain't the most unreasonable woman I ever saw," he ejaculated. "Why, many and many 'tis the time I've sat down to a meal and never said a word about it. Anybody would know there wasn't any fault to be found or I'd 'a' found it, and yet you want a better compliment than that! That's just like a woman—they can't tell a compliment when they get one!"—Tit-Bits.

five hundred acres in small tracts are reported to have changed hands within the last few days. Some acreage near one of the new locations on which the Burke-Waggoner people started to build a derrick, while I was there. Increased from $15 to $100 per acre over night. This is not an uncommon thing in Texas. For instance, on my first trip to Texas three months ago, I spent one week in Archer county and while there the Kemp-Munger-Allen well in Wichita, just north of Archer county, came in, and leases two miles from this well jumped from one hundred fifty dollars to five thousand dollars per acre in two days. Stock in this company went from one hundred dollars to twenty-five hundred dollars per share overnight. Leases that I could have secured for fifteen dollars per acre in Archer county six to seven miles south of the well above referred to, were selling three days later for five hundred dollars per acre. Some acreage two miles farther away, which was purchased by Mr. Hibbard twelve months ago for six dollars per acre, was sold for two hundred dollars per acre.

These statements may sound wild, but if I related some of the things that really happen every day in Texas, no one would believe them, unless they had been in Texas. I advise any one who can afford it, to go to Texas. There never was a greater opportunity for one to make a fortune on so small an investment. Leases are the safest for the small investor, and they are constantly going up in value. I have spent the greater part of the last four months in Texas and made a pretty thorough study of conditions. They are having a pretty rough winter and operations are not extensive as they will be in the early spring. Most of the big companies are preparing for a very active drilling campaign, as soon as the weather conditions will permit.

There is a great deal of action at this time in Stevens county, although they are many miles from a railroad. It is claimed that they have two hundred and sixty-four producing wells in this county, and four hundred and sixty-seven drilling wells, with two hundred and ninety-three new rigs and locations. Practically all of the above producing wells have been drilled within the last ten months. Leases in many instances having advanced from a few hundred dollars per acre to several thousand.

In some sections in Eastland county, near Ranger, acreage has advanced in two years from ten dollars per acre to forty thousand dollars per acre, and in Burkburnett, some acreage is reported to have sold for one hundred thousand dollars per acre. Ranger is claimed to have one thousand and twenty-five producing wells and seven hundred and six additional rigs and locations.

Railroad travel and living conditions have shown some improvement recently, but there is still room for improvement. Due to the great rush for the fortunes that are to be made there, people often have to stand up for many miles, when traveling by rail.

I expect to spend about half my time in the near future in Texas, and as above stated, I advise any one who has a small amount of money that they can invest, to go to Texas, and take advantage of some of the opportunities there.

DIGIT TALLIS

Trembling with violent passion, Digit Tallis let the evening paper fall to the floor. His eyes bulged. His teeth contracted.

"Digit!" cried Mrs. Tallis. "What is it? What's wrong? Is anything the matter? What's the matter?"

"Those scoundrelly profiteers are thinking of putting the price of milk up another half cent!" choked Tallis. "What sort of government is it that permits such things? Is this Russia? How can people sit idle under such indignities? It makes me see red! It makes me—"

Rising from his chair in his ungovernable rage, he strode about the room yanking down the lace curtains, sending vases crashing to the floor, kicking rungs out of chairs. At length, his wrath partly abated, he sank down on the sofa, exhausted but still grinding his teeth and tearing at his hair.

"By the way, Digit," said his wife, hoping to take his mind off the subject, "did you put that $14 in the bank today as you intended?"

Digit Tallis's face lighted up. "No," he said, "I got the greatest bargain with it you ever heard of. Workmen Worries sold me a quart of whiskey for $13.50—did you ever hear of such a bargain?"

Rising in her turn, Mrs. Tallis took off one shoe and broke all the window panes.

"You simply can not trust anybody. Every one seems so dishonest nowadays," declared the woman. "My maid, in whom I had the utmost confidence, left me suddenly yesterday and took with her my beautiful pearl brooch." "That is too bad," sympathized the friend. "Which one was it?" "That very pretty one I smuggled through last spring."—Wall Street Journal.

Overheard a man say recently that while the "flu" might return this fall, in his opinion there would be no epidemic.

JERUSALEM HAS Y. W. C. A. HOTEL.

There is a Y. W. C. A. in Jerusalem under the direction of an American woman, though the work is administered under the World's Committee of the Y. W. C. A., which has headquarters in London.

During the war a fund called the "Syrian and Palestine Relief Fund" made possible work in this remote region. Later on the activity was taken under the American Red Cross and administered as a part of their worldwide relief during the war. Very lately the Red Cross withdrew from Jerusalem and the Y. W. C. A. was urged to carry on the work. Miss Grace O. Strang of Pasadena, Cal., a Red Cross worker, was released to carry on this Y. W. C. A. work.

The Y. W. C. A. hotel is used by the British women who are stationed in the Palestine center. A workroom for women of Jerusalem and an employment bureau through which the local women can find work are also managed by the Y. W. C. A. It is hoped that a recreation center for native girls will be opened soon, as girls in Palestine as well as in all countries of the world since the war, have learned to work outside of their homes and few of them know how to play.

FORESTRY BOARD OUTLINES POLICY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—(United Press).—Four definite clauses to be included in the forest policy for California have been adopted by the State Board of Forestry in session here and will be presented at the next session of the legislature. They follow:

1.—Appropriation by the state legislature of sufficient funds for the prevention and suppression of forest, grain and pasture fires outside of national forests.

2.—Acquirement of logged-off areas, both in the redwoods and pine forests, as a nucleus of state forests for future timber supply.

3.—Acquirement of watersheds necessary for the conservation of water for domestic and irrigation purposes.

4.—Renewal of forests on logged-off areas and watersheds that are in need of reforestation.

Already the logged-off area in California is 600,000 acres.

"Immediate action must be taken in California," declared Dr. George C. Pardee, chairman of the board, "if this state is to profit by the mistakes of states and other nations. Vast logged-off fire-swept areas will not attract tourists nor will they support saw mills and thriving communities, nor provide lumber for future generations."

TEST CASE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 13.—(United Press).—Every possible flaw in the legislative act under which the state voted $15,000,000 for work on the Sutter by-pass reclamation project is being pointed out in a friendly suit being heard today in the state appellate court.

The contest is being waged to test constitutionality of the act.

It was brought by Attorneys Devlin and Devlin, representing the state reclamation board, and is defended by Attorney John L. Attridge of the state income tax bureau.

In order to open the case State Controller John S. Chambers has refused to issue the first warrant for fund needed to carry out the work.

The chief question being argued is whether the legislature has the right to "make a gift of state money for private purposes." It is being pointed out this does not constitute "a gift for private purposes." It is unconstitutional for the legislature to "make a gift of private funds."

In this connection it is being argued that while private lands are being reclaimed certain assessments are levied by the state, through which the state treasury is recompensed; and, on the other hand, flood control work, involved in the project, aids navigation and therefore is beneficial to the government.

That the state, government and landowners are benefitted by the project is the point being raised in answer to the argument that private interests might especially benefit.

We Have Bought a New Lease

18²/₃ Acres Adjoining the Town of Richfield on the East

Study this map carefully—the distances indicated are correct, not guessed at, but were measured with a steel tape. You will readily see that we are surrounded by the big companies—you should not have to be begged to buy our stock now. Use your good common sense—if the big companies are right, We cannot be wrong. We are on the road to be one of the big fellows soon. It is evident that we are on the right road as we are not TOP HEAVY with promotion stock.

We are incorporated for $500,000; ONLY 100,000 shares have been allowed in exchange for leases, leaving 400,000 shares in the treasury and the Corporation Commissioner has granted us permit No. 8579 to sell 250,000 shares of stock at par, $1.00, for the purpose of buying 2 Combination Rotary and Cable drilling rigs and to drill 2 wells.

We Have Made a World's Record for a New Company

Incorporated on the 19th day of November, 1919; Directors elected on the 24th day of November, 1919; Permit for sale of stock requested December 4th, 1919; Permit granted, December 5th, 1919; Derrick contracted for on Lease No. 1, December 15th, 1919; January 3rd, 1920, derrick, 136 feet high and containing 53,000 feet of lumber, completed, Bird & Allen, Contractors, with all rig irons installed and ready for machinery to be installed.

We have ordered 2 Combination Rotary and Cable Drill Rigs from the National Supply Company of California.

Bird & Allen have just received order for duplicate of derrick on Lease-No. 1, to be erected on the Northwest location of our NEW lease, which is just 2280 feet—steel tape measure—from the big General Petroleum Gusher; 1800 feet from the Amalgamated Well, which is now drilling, and 900 feet from the derrick which is being erected by the General Petroleum; also our south property line on this NEW Richfield Lease is just 260 feet north of the Richfield-Yorba (Scott) Well, which has a very heavy showing of oil and whose stock is now selling above par.

Does this company look good enough for YOU? Have you confidence in the men back of it to handle YOUR money with THEIR money?

OFFICERS

Neil J. Harrington.....President
E. J. Joannes.....Vice-President

Thos. J. Cunningham.....Treasurer
Vern Dumas.....Secretary

We have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Jess M. Nelson as our General Field Superintendent—he has had many years of experience in this line of work, not only in the United States but in representing one of the largest oil companies in the same capacity in foreign countries. His record is open for your inspection. Does this mean anything to you?

Look up the history of any of the big companies, none of them started with conditions as favorable as ours, and none with a more conservative Board of Directors.

Look over the names of our Board of Directors, you know them all personally or by reputation, and their standing in the financial world, which can easily be verified by looking them up through the mercantile agency of R. G. Dunn & Co.

LISTEN, if you have any suggestions to make to this organization which will strengthen our proposition as to the safety of your investment we will be glad to have you send them in.

EVERY share of stock issued in this company not only participate in this NEW Lease of 18 2-3 acres, but also in 3 other leases. Our No. 1, which is just south of the NEW lease consisting of 20 acres on which we are installing the machinery in our new derrick, but also two 10 acre tracts adjoining, midway between Whittier and Montebello.

We are now offering the unsold portion of the 250,000 shares at par. We are POSITIVELY the closest to production and the big gushers of any independent company operating in the Richfield District, and our advice to you is to buy and buy QUICK as we anticipate an early over-subscription. Our stock is NOW worth $1.00 per share, when we bring in our first well, what will it be worth?

Our representative at Anaheim, Mr. D. A. Johnston will be glad to meet any who may be interested, at the Valencia Hotel, Anaheim, California.

Mr. Lucien Francis Lamoureux, at Hotel Elizabeth, Burbank, California, will be glad to meet all who may be interested, in Burbank, Glendale, Tropic and the San Fernando Valley.

Our representative at Riverside, Mr. Jos. Buckman, can be reached at the Reynolds Hotel, Riverside, California.

BANK LOANS AND H. C. L.

Calling hard names solves no industrial problems. At the present time there is entirely too much recrimination; too many Federal departments are concerned solely with cleansing their own skirts of the tar of extravagance and too little honest effort to find a solution for the vexed, high cost of living.

The Liberty Loan campaigns taught thousands of persons the possibilities of buying things on credit. Many of them have temporarily acquired the habit and we have come to a stage in national development when people are willing to buy more than they are willing to produce. Thrift seems to have disappeared and extravagance has taken her place. The average person no longer thinks of putting away a little at a time for a rainy day; but the happy-go-lucky policy of come-easy-go-easy seems to apply.

This unmistakable tendency is revealed in the currency and banking reports. Three years ago the deposits exceeded the loans in the New York banks by about one per cent. At the present time the loans exceed the deposits by about twenty per cent.

"Through the medium of the Federal Reserve System the banks have furnished to consumers purchasing power at least twenty per cent in excess of the money which these consumers have been able to earn through their productive efforts."

Criticism has been directed at the Federal Reserve System for maintaining a system of currency on a credit inflation plan that, the critics say, is a leading cause of the present high price level. The Federal Reserve Board replies that the advance of prices preceded and made the expansion of currency and credit unavoidable. We repeat, the recriminations reduce no prices.—Exchange.

THE GIRL WHO WALKED

A young school teacher came shivering into the school building one bitter cold morning, and when the other teachers commented on her chilled appearance, said she had walked to school. Knowing that it was a walk to terrify the most enthusiastic amateur pedestrian, they asked with horrified concern why she did not take the car. "Because I had no money for carfare," was the reply.

When her fellow teachers expressed sympathy, and a discreet but generous desire to help, she laughed, and said, "Oh, it isn't as bad as you think. You see, I put a certain part of my salary in the savings bank every month, and I never touch it, no matter what happens. This month I evidently didn't plan my budget right—too many movies, probably—so it's 'walk' for me, till pay day. But next month I bet I'll be more careful."

The things this girl is learning about comparative values will be of more benefit to her than all the money she saves. As she balances hardships against indulgence, present pleasure against future possibility, her natural tendency will be toward the saner, better judged expenditure. And the steady practice in keeping faith with herself in spite of temptations to let herself off easy, will make of her something more precious than gold, although she will not be conscious of the process.—Long Beach Telegram.

WHEN THE ROADS GO BACK

These are critical days for the nation and especially critical for the nation's economic system. The public has indicated that it wishes a continued trial of private ownership. That being the case, it should give such ownership and operation fair and square treatment. Reasonably remunerative rates, at least moderate supplies of new capital at figures that will make it possible to use the funds, and support in the maintenance of a just and equitable position with respect to labor, are among the essentials which must be furnished in order to make the restoration of private control a success.

On the other hand, the roads themselves, recognizing that they are on trial as never before, must make every effort to throw off the paralysis of inefficiency which has crept over them under government management and must endeavor to meet the needs and wishes of the public in every reasonable way. The outcome of what is now to be tried will be of very far-reaching significance in many departments of business activity.—New York Journal of Commerce.

SPORTSMANSHIP

We have talked a lot about sportsmanship, but we can't talk too much. We are reminded of it again. The other day we saw a golf match that was fought evenly to the sixteenth hole. There one man won and, winning, held out his hand to his antagonist, and said, "It was a bully match." The beaten man turned his back and walked away. He wouldn't shake hands. He was a poor sportsman and a poor loser. It was bad manners and bad manhood. Play to win, but if you lose don't make excuses—and never fail to give your opponent credit for his skill when he beats you. . . . No man who saw the little incident on the sixteenth green will ever forget it, and that man has dropped in the estimation of everybody who has heard of it.—The American Boy.

THE LEGION'S PURPOSES

Since attacks are being made on the American Legion, it is well to discover, if possible, what actuates them. Is the Legion the tool of capital, as Victor Berger asserts? The preamble to the Legion constitution says:

For God and country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

That platform might have been written by any man who believed in the common good of all, the general uplift of humanity and the brotherhood of man. It was not written by Socialist or radical, capitalist or laborer. It was written by American soldiers who went across the seas to fight for an ideal. They are at home now and ready to resume the ways of peace and the principle for which they fought is to be the principle for which they mean to strive. Those who are fighting the American Legion are identifying themselves unmistakably.

SUCCESSFUL CHRISTIAN

Mrs. Cox, a city missionary, from Los Angeles, addressed the Seventh-day Adventist congregation assembled Saturday morning at the Third Street auditorium.

In a unique way she brought out the thought that to be a successful Christian requires an investment, as does any other line of business.

A business man makes a success of a certain enterprise. How? By putting into it all the capital he can muster; his time, plans, physical and mental strength, making its success his goal, all else subservient, his motto. At stated times books are balanced and inventory taken. Net gain and present worth prove the value of investment.

Brother B wishes to become a successful Christian. However, his investment is meager; he "has no time" to devote to his business; his energies are wasted on other attractions; no definite plans are made. Inventory time comes. (Examine yourselves.) 2 Corinthians 13:5 Result—business is a failure, nothing on hand but leaves.

Noah made a success of his business spending one hundred and twenty of the best years of his life building the ark and giving his message of warning. He put everything he had into his business. The ark was needed but a few months; but what if there had been no ark during that period?

Man now rules here below, but some day God's kingdom will be ushered in. We shall then share in the dividends as we now invest. God wants your heart, your time, talents and means consecrated to His service.

If the Christian's balance sheet shows nothing but loss—find the cause. Is it "all of self and none of Thee, or none of self and all of Thee?"

It requires all to win the prize, to obtain the peace of great price—all there is of Christ to save us and all there is of us to comprehend and grasp it.

PARIS BUSY PLANNING STYLES FOR MILADY'S AIR VOYAGE

(By United Press). PARIS. (By Mail).—As the result of daily airplane service between Paris and London, as well as prospective airplane connections in the near future with all the leading European capitals, the designing of dainty airplane costumes has become one of the new tasks of Rue de la Paix.

The models now being shown are composed largely of fur, are guaranteed to be cold proof and fog-proof—this for the English channel—and are made in such a manner that milady can climb in and out of an airplane easily.

Future airplane shows are expected to have a large section given over hereafter to these millinery creations for aerial travel. Some of the designs now being shown are so attractive that thousands of women who would previously have died of fright at the thought of a flight across the channel are now clamoring for places in order to have an excuse for wearing one of the new creations.

RETAIL CLOTHIERS IN SESSION

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—(United Press).—The National Association of Retail Clothiers met here today to make plans for bringing down the cost of clothing and guard against a threatened rise of spring wearing apparel.

"We intend to do everything in our power to reduce the cost of clothes to a minimum," Charles E. Wry, secretary of the association, said before the meeting convened.

"Every branch of the clothing industry, including labor, will be in attendance. We intend to study every angle of the proposition, in an effort to devise some scheme of action to lower the cost of both production and material."

Approximately 2,000 members of the clothing industry were present at the opening session, and many more were expected. The convention adjourns January 16.

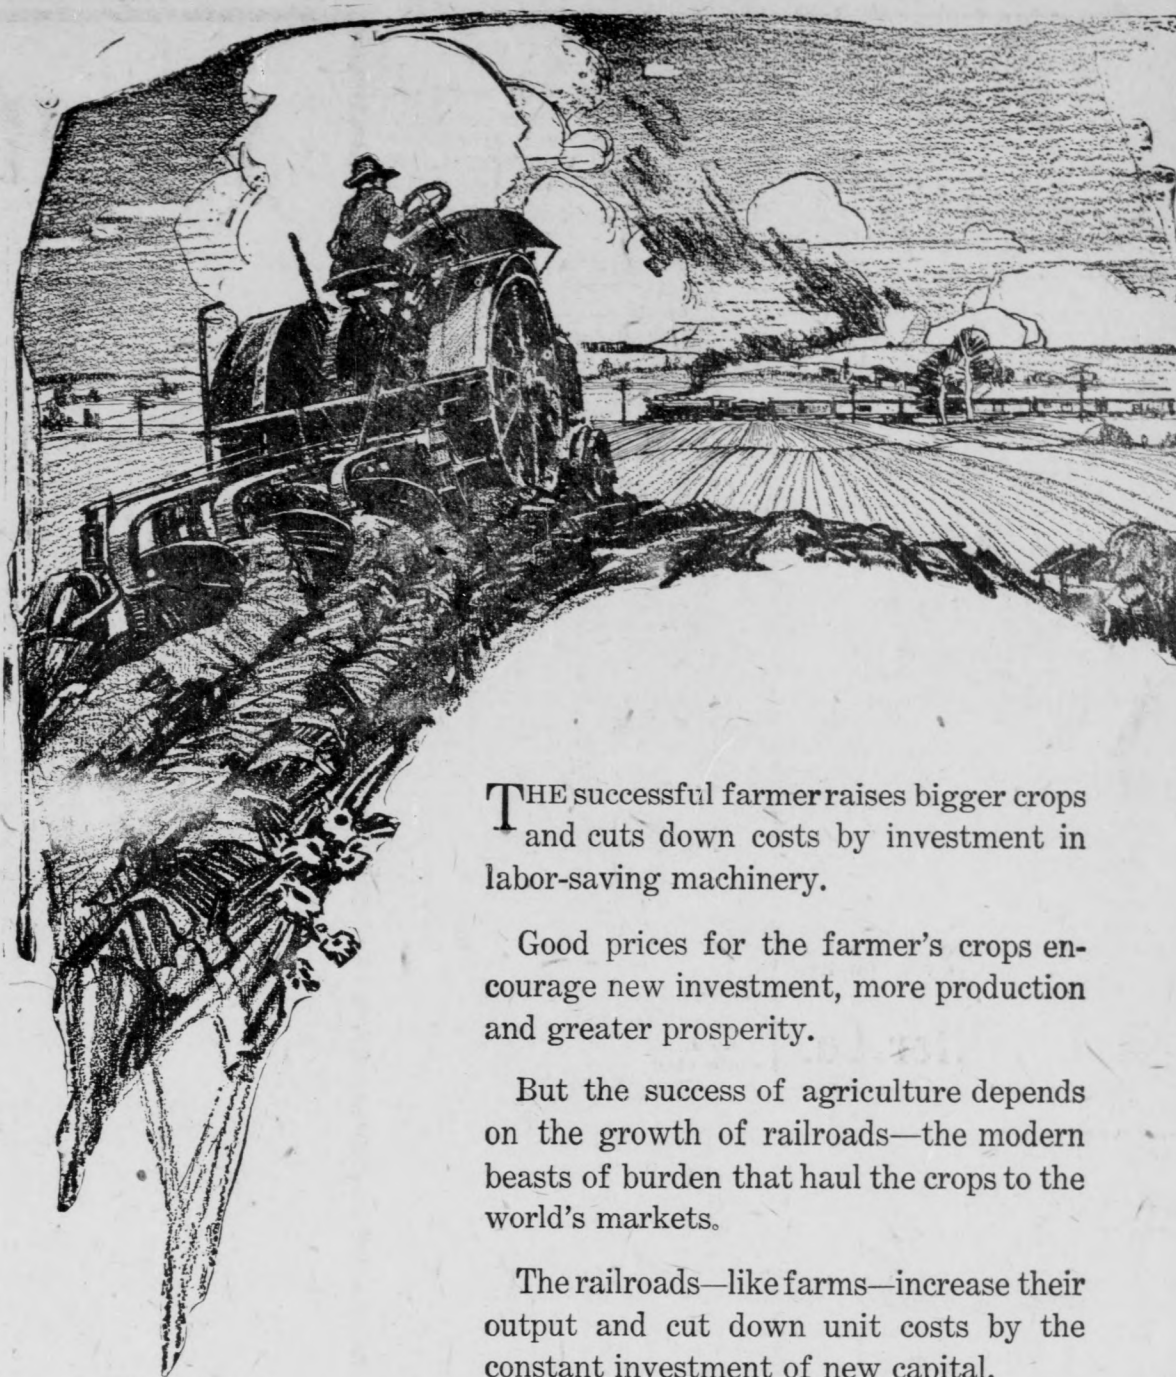

A Los Angeles woman claims she is 119 years old. As her parents are dead, and her grand-parents are also deceased, there is no way to disprove her claim, so she wins on the same basis that Mark Twain said proved the location of the grave of Adam, because nobody could prove that it wasn't.

On Armistice day, the hotel clerk, Greenville, Pa., reading from a newspaper, remarked that London was quiet for two minutes in honor of its soldier dead. "Hell! That's nothing," said the colored taxidriver. "Greenville has been quiet all day."

The Santa Monica bay is to be dried up, by order of the local authorities there. Too many hound dogs in the town bay all night, and the complaints from citizens have caused the officers to order the baying stopped or the dogs killed. That will dry the bay up.

A youthful burglar at Long Beach had a diary in his pocket, in which he had recorded his thieveries as he had performed them. Perhaps some one had given him the diary for Christmas, and he thought of course he had to use it.

Diamond rings are very useful, particularly in keeping a girl's hair in place.

THE successful farmer raises bigger crops and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmer's crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

ARSENT-MINDNESS

One of Dixon's greatest failings is his absent mindness. The other morning he came out of his house, walked to the edge of the pavement, and suddenly threw his right leg into the air with a vaulting motion. Of course he fell sprawling to the ground.

"Hallo, Dixon, what are you doing?" cried a neighbor, who rushed to help him.

"Oh, nothing," he muttered sheepishly. "Only I thought I was mounting my bicycle. I forgot I hadn't the beastly thing with me!"—London Answers.

BROADWAY SCHOOL BUILDING

The Board of Trustees of City Schools is now in possession of an attractive water color sketch of the proposed new building to be erected on the Broadway Campus and also has secured a cut of the building presented herewith that citizens may gain an idea of the appearance of the prospective school. It is to be built of hollow tile with a plaster exterior and will therefore be of fire-proof construction. The space it encloses will be divided into eight class rooms and in addition there will be a manual training room, a sewing room, administrative rooms in the way of a principal's office, etc., and rest rooms. Last but not least, the plan calls for an auditorium with a seating capacity of 400. This will be of about the same dimensions as the auditorium in the Intermediate School but will be a better shape. Fearing that it will be unable to carry out its original plans in their entirety because of great advance in the cost of labor and materials that has taken place since the estimates were prepared, the Board is advertising for alternate bids, one of which involves the leaving out of the auditorium, another provides for the walls but leaves out the finishing. Provision is also made for bids on the job as a whole and for separate bids on the different classes of work. The water color drawing of the building referred to above will be shown for the first time at the meeting of the Broadway Parent-Teacher Association which will take place this week. After that it will be on display in some public place for the benefit of all persons interested.

Personals

Mrs. Luella Curtis of Oakland who has been visiting Mrs. L. Cutler of 220 North Louise Street, left this morning for Long Beach.

Mrs. J. Hamblin, of Olympia, Washington, who is spending the winter in Los Angeles, visited Mrs. A. C. Schrader of 1224 Dorothy Drive, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Holland of 209 Arden Avenue left yesterday for Kansas City, to be gone a month or six weeks. Their house will be occupied in their absence.

The Imperial Valley came up and took one look at the Tournament parade at Pasadena on New Year's day, and then went home and made up its mind to send a float up for the parade next year and take first prize.

Mr. Barstow reports that two new five-room Colonial bungalows similar in type to others already built by him are being started by J. F. Stanford on Burchette Street and that C. B. Stanford, his brother, is starting two more on Patterson Avenue. They are houses that will sell for about $4500.

Mrs. Matilda Johnson entertained at dinner on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Pearl Miller of Minneapolis. Covers were laid for Miss Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Johnson and infant son of Pasadena, Miss Coral Griffith, G. W. Calkins, the host and hostess and guest of honor. The dinner was followed by an evening of music and cards.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Maxwell of 715 North Maryland Avenue have as their guests Mr. Maxwell's father, Mr. L. E. Maxwell, and sister and brother, of Topeka, Kansas. They made the trip in their car and had a very pleasant journey considering the time of year. They are much pleased with our climate and expect to spend the winter here.

Printers are getting so scarce, and so few boys are learning the trade, that if the schools don't soon add printing to the blacksmithing and cobbling and other high arts that they will also have to omit geography and spelling and arithmetic and other light sports from their course of study, because there won't be anybody left to print the textbooks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dietrich of 442 Patterson Avenue have sold their home to Mr. C. E. Blake of Palm Drive who is making quite extensive improvements on the property. Mr. May, the contractor, is building a modern five-room bungalow at 435 Patterson for Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich, which will cost about $4000 when completed. The bungalow is to be strictly modern, with all latest improvements and the Dietrichs are looking forward with pleasure to the time when they shall be able to take possession of same.

Dr. Florence Keller had a narrow escape from serious injury Friday evening when returning from White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles to her home at 811 North Jackson St., Glendale. When turning from Mission Avenue into Workman Avenue, a car which was coming along that street at a high rate of speed struck the side of her car, so badly demolishing it that she had to have it towed in. Occupants of both cars escaped with minor injuries. Dr. Keller's husband, Dr. P. Martin Keller, with whom she is associated in professional work, has just returned from the University of California hospital, where he was taking special work in the department of obstetrics and children's diseases.

The young man passed away Sunday. Rev. W. E. Edmonds will conduct the services.

Arthur was quite a familiar figure on the streets of Glendale until a few years ago, when he was taken to Pasadena for treatment. His father conducted a dry goods store in Glendale for many years.

Mr. Bourne, who had been a resident of Eagle Rock for a number of years, has moved his family to Glendale and occupies rooms in the Flower apartments. However, he expects as soon as it is possible to locate in a bungalow in the residential part of the city.

ARGUMENTS IN NEW CASE CUT SHORT

LECOMPT DAVIS MAKES BRIEF ADDRESS TO JURY; DIST. ATTORNEY WOOLWINE BEGINS ARGUMENT FOR STATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—The defense in the trial of Harry S. New, sprung a sudden surprise this morning when chief of the defense counsel, Lecompte Davis, after a brief address to the jury, announced that the defense had concluded its arguments. It had been expected that Attorney John L. Richardson would speak all of today and Davis probably tomorrow.

Shortly before eleven o'clock District Attorney Woolwine began the concluding argument for the state.

"The only difference between this murder and any other murder," Woolwine declared, "is that this man's father is a United States senator. If this man is sent to an asylum with the United States senator back of him, he will not stay there a year."

Hopes were entertained in the court room that the case might go to the jury tonight or otherwise probably tomorrow morning.

FAR FROM MANITOBA

Fred Heal, who came to Glendale about Christmas time from Beulah, Manitoba, is now established here both as a resident and business man, having purchased a home at 608 Cameron Drive of which he and Mrs. Heal expect to secure possession in about a week. He came from Canada with the intention of locating in Southern California and had Pasadena in mind, but on visiting Glendale he and his wife were so pleased with its appearance and situation they decided to look no further with the result noted above. Mr. Heal is a Mason and expects to affiliate himself with the order here. He is on the lookout for a Canadian Club to join. He is in the life insurance business, which he will carry on here.

NEWSPAPER SPACE CHEAPEST ADVERTISING

The rise in newspaper advertising rates has already begun upon an extensive scale in practically every section of the country—but, in spite of the fact that these increases range from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent they are still far below the proportion of increase made by the various classes of magazines.

In reviewing what has recently occurred in this connection the Bulletin of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association says: "Even if the entire average increase in rates on the part of newspapers was up to the maximum of 33 1-3 per cent newspaper rates would still be ridiculously low as compared with the rates asked by the magazines and farm papers."

"With an increase of this nature newspaper rates would be only four-fifteenths of a cent a line per thousand. Magazine rates (allowing for no increase) would be nine-fifteenths of a cent a line per thousand. Farm paper rates would be in the neighborhood of twelve-fifteenths of a cent a line per thousand."

"That this small increase is entirely justified is evident from the fact that there are not only far more readers of newspapers than there were ten years ago, but these readers have been better educated to the value of advertising. Advertising is bringing so much greater results today than it did a few years ago that it is worth more money—in spite of the fact that increased efficiency is something which is intangible and can not be calculated on a cold, hard percentage basis."

THESE ARE ORIENTAL DAYS

By Margaret Rohe

Oh, woman in your hours of ease
You simply must be quite Chinese;
And in such togs
Eschew all dogs.

Except a Chow or Pekinese.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Right in the midst of the happy family circle all the girls are trying to imitate Lenore Ulric in "The Son Daughter." They are all dressed up in those cute little embroidered Chinese suits until New York days at home look like Limehouse Nights. Of course these effective three coats and wide trousers of vivid Chinese brocade banded in contrasting hand embroidery have long held a favored place among the negligees of a discerning few. Fay Bainter in "East Is West" won many to their charms last season and since Miss Ulric displays their beauty and practicality so artistically in her newest role there has been a renewed impetus in their demand.

A smart Fifth Avenue shop following up the latest fashion hint from China by way of the Belasco Theatre has had a whole window, every chink and cranny, full of Chinky lounging suits. Mandarin coats and elaborately hectic head dresses. These latter are much too ornate and bristly for any comfort 'round the house, but the trouser suits certainly made for relaxation, ease and beauty, too, provided of course you don't stand over five feet two in your embroidered Chinese slippers nor tip the scales at more than one hundred and twenty-five pounds avoirdupois.

Frankly if you are either statuesque or portly the Chinese influence is a bad influence for you, but if you are petite and svelte then you can be as Celestial as you like, and look it, too.

Besides the entire silken suit of one color, such as the young Chinese girls wear, black satin trousers worn with the vivid satin coats elaborately embroidered are very smart indeed. Along with these Chinese suits milady has developed also a decided penchant for Chinese scents. Firstwhile happy homes and firesides simply reek with temple incense in all flavors and the atmosphere is as bluey thick as a Fu Manchu opium den or a Greenwich village studio. Subtle Oriental perfumes from Paris in fascinating Chinese bottles with even more fascinating and intriguing Chinese names appeal strongly to both vamp and vestal, and are as expensive as they are intensive. One surely has to hand over a good many dollars for a single scent like these.

By the way, all those good old simple flower garden perfumes seem to have disappeared from our 1920 atmosphere. Whiffs of violet, white rose, lily of the valley, lavender and crabapple have vanished with the simple life when to smell like a spicy old fashioned pink was preferable to smelling like a punk stick. Nowadays our super-extravagant nostrils sniff ecstatically only the odors of the Orient and therefore Chinese scents and Parisian sense combine to take away our cents with great success and efficiency.

One very important detail bearing upon this Chinese sartorial fad happens to be a dog's tail. For naturally any boudoir peach doggedly determined to be true to Chinese form must use discretion when picking out her canine accessories and see to it that her "muvver's precious" answers to something like "Pantani" or "Sen Sen" and has a Pekinese pedigree as long as the Chinese wall.

BIRD POPULATION INCREASING

The beneficial effects of the migratory bird treaty are beginning to be felt. The United States Department of Agriculture, through its bureau of Biological Survey, has conducted investigations of the breeding areas of ducks in North Dakota and Nebraska. Compared with former years, a gratifying increase of breeding waterfowl, particularly in North Dakota, is evident. The fifth annual series of counts of birds of all species breeding on selected areas in various parts of the United States contained a large proportion of reports showing increases in bird population. The total number of reports received, however, was not large. Many of the persons who had formerly taken part in the annual bird counts were unable, because of extra duties assumed during the war, to find time for the work required by the fifth count.

"Many species of migratory birds," reports the chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, "have had a marked increase under the existing treaty act. Waterfowl formerly driven to the far North by spring shooting have remained in steadily increasing numbers to breed in localities where none had previously nested for many years."

Santa Barbara folks inaugurated a grand New Year's Day swim this year, and they enjoyed it so much that many of them have determined to take a bath every year.

It has been proved that the present value of a dollar is about fifty cents. The fellow who never had a dollar in his life is now fifty cents richer than before.

ONLY 11 PER CENT OF PEOPLE ASK FOR CREDIT

One in every nine persons in Binghamton, N. Y., who trade in local stores ask for credit, according to a report made public by the "Parlor City" Chamber of Commerce. This is in decided contrast to other cities, where the high cost of merchandise and unsettled industrial conditions are combining to force a majority of customers to buy "on tick."

The Binghamton chamber has quietly installed and perfected a credit department, which today is serving practically every store in the city. Patrons who now request credit privileges in Binghamton establishments have their names telephoned to the credit department before the sale is permitted.

At the chamber's offices the credit chief, Carl Wever, consults a card index system. If the person has had credit dealings with any other local concern, his rating and record is given on a card. Upon the experience of other local establishments hinges the answer, favorable or unfavorable. If he has no credit rating, the chamber department makes a personal investigation.

FRANK, AT ANY RATE

After he had been demobilized, Simpson went to the photographer and was taken in all sorts of poses in his uniform, soon to be discarded.

He was proudly showing all these to a friend, when he asked:

"Which do you think is the best, Tom?"

The other man was disgusted at Simpson's vanity, and replied promptly:

"Well, personally, I think I like best the one where you are wearing the gas mask."

Firemen failed to save the pork when a fire that was being used to smoke a shoat caused the smokehouse to be consumed at Sutter Creek, Calif.

A long-winded minister, with a record of sermons averaging an hour and a half, was counted a nuisance by many, but a blessing by a few who knew how to take advantage of a weekly sermon which ran at least an hour. One Sunday morning the minister had begun a tour of ancient Babylon, and it was dry stuff, mighty dry. He heard a peculiar sound, and it was repeated. He saw a youngster in the gallery tossing horse chestnuts at the heads of his congregation. Hastily the sexton was summoned and when that worthy scrambled upstairs and reached the front rail, the youngster said in an audible whisper:

"Say, Bo, you tell the parson to stick to his preachin' and I'll keep all them other guys awake."

Cranberry Creek ran for a mile or so near the State Insane Asylum and at the big eddy purled within ten feet of the asylum wall. Hoskins, an inveterate angler, was fishing there late one August afternoon when an inmate popped his head over the wall and called down to Hoskins:

"Well, how's the swimming?"

"I'm not swimming. I'm fishing," said Hoskins, trying to humor the unfortunate inmate.

"Zat so? Caught any?"

"None! None!"

"How long you been fishing?"

"Since early this morning."

The inmate laughed quite merrily and then said:

"Had any bites?"

"None," said Hoskins.

"What? Fishin' all day and not even a bite? Say, come on in."

TWO KINDS OF CRITICISM

There are two kinds of criticism to which men in public office are subjected. The one arises out of mere personal antagonism and is directed against the person of the official; the other grows out of differences of opinion on public questions and is directed against the resented by any man in public life, for it contributes nothing to the better administration of public affairs; but the second kind should never be resented. If any man has an idea which he sincerely believes to be for the public good, he should be left entirely free to express it publicly, even if in so doing the conduct or policy of some public official must be censured. This kind of criticism, in fact, should be welcomed, for it may point the way to progress.

In an autocracy criticism may be silenced by resort to arbitrary power, by suppression of freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of assemblage; but in a democracy criticism can be met only by removing the cause or by demonstrating in open discussion that the critic is wrong.—"Citizen's Business," Philadelphia.

INFORMATION BUREAU FOR WOMEN IN PARIS

An information bureau and guides for American women going to France to visit the graves of American soldiers is soon to be established in Hotel Petrograd, the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House in Paris, which, since it was opened in December of 1917, has been headquarters for allied women war workers in Paris.

Hotel Petrograd is to be turned into the American Woman's Club in Paris this month, and will continue to be managed by the American Y. W. C. A. As a club it will continue to accommodate both transient and permanent guests. Large reading and writing rooms and a large library are being fitted up.

In this movement for giving women visiting soldiers' graves every possible help, the Y. W. C. A. is associated with a large movement of the American churches in France, which is under the direction of Dr. Goodrich, pastor of the American church in Paris. Prominent women resident in Paris are backing the movement.

Arrangements will be made for caring for as many of these women as is possible at Y. W. C. A. Hostess Houses in devastated regions such as Rheims and St. Quentin.

We have found out the real secret of success. You just need one thing, and you can get it as easy as rolling off a log. All you need is the ability to want something very badly. We tell this to you at no extra charge, and now every one of you can be whatever he wants to be. Just want to be it hard enough and you'll get it. It can't fail. That's what your wills were made for—to want with. You wind up your wills and set them to drilling into the future like an auger into a piece of wood. The wood can't stop the auger and the future can't stop your will. It bores just the kind of a hole you want it to. Make up your minds exactly what it is that you want to do with your life, and then want to do it with all your might. The first thing you know you will have it and you can set about wanting something else.—American Boy.
